Tween Writing Workshops

A writing series for tweens (grades 4 & 5) in which participants will work on a short piece of their own writing. At the end of the month, tweens will have the opportunity to submit their writing to be included in the Corvallis Public Library collection. We encourage tweens to attend all four sessions to get the most out of the series and to build a community of writer friends, but it is also okay to come to one or two sessions or as time allows. All supplies provided. Registration is required, and opens for all events on October 25th at 12 PM: cbcpl.net/tweenwriting

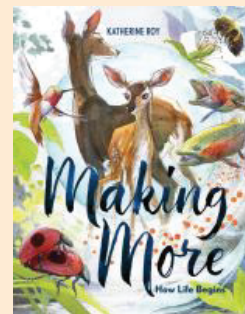

NOVEMBER 8 • 2 PM

Meet local author Tom Birdseye who will talk about plot & characterization in writing, and then work on a piece of your own writing—short story, short graphic novel, poem, or essay—and receive feedback from peers.

NOVEMBER 15 • 2 PM

Meet award-winning local author & illustrator Katherine Roy who will talk to the group about illustration, then work on a piece of your own writing!

NOVEMBER 22 • 2 PM

Meet local author Julie Mathison who will talk to us about setting and world building, and then work on a piece of your own writing!

NOVEMBER 29 • 2 PM

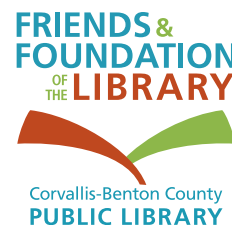

In this final week, spend some extra time on your own piece of writing—short story, short graphic novel, poem, or essay—and receive feedback from your peers.
